Notice to California Residents – Your CCPA Rights

If you are a California resident, you have certain rights, pursuant to the California Consumer Privacy Act 2018 (or CCPA).

Your Right	CCPA Requirement
Right to Know	As a California resident, you have the right to request that we disclose what personal information we collect, use, disclose and/or sell. To enable us to fulfill that request, we will need to verify your identity. We may ask for certain information to verify the request in accordance with applicable law. If we use a service provider for such verification, that service provider will not retain such information provided for verification purposes.
Right to Request Deletion	As a California resident, you have a right to request the deletion of your personal information collected or maintained by us. To enable us to fulfill that request, we will need to verify your identity. We may ask for certain information to verify the request in accordance with applicable law. If we use a service provider for such verification, that service provider will not retain such information provided for verification purposes.
Right to Non-Discrimination	As a California resident, you have a right not to receive discriminatory treatment by us for the exercise of any of your CCPA rights.
Authorized Agent	As a California resident, you can exercise your CCPA rights or you can designate an authorized agent to make a request on your behalf. We may require that you provide the authorized agent written permission to submit a request on your behalf and that the authorized agent verifies their own identity directly with us.
Contact Us for More Information	If you have questions about this Privacy Policy, including anything in this section about your CCPA Rights, please contact us at 1-866-606-2708.
